FOREWORD

Once again we are privileged to bring you our listing of fine irises—the lovely Linse introductions and some of the very finest from other hybridizers. We want to thank each and every one of you who has ordered from us in the past, and if, in some cases, we have failed to answer your fine cards and letters, accept our apologies and be assured that they were appreciated never-the-less, and keep them coming!

Father Time is slipping up on this writer and the boundless energy once possessed is only a memory. Because of this I have greatly reduced our planting, so that I may continue to bring you personal service. Older varieties no longer in brisk demand by our customers have been eliminated, and replaced by others which, we hope, will meet with your approval. In addition to these new listings and introductions we are growing about 50 others of the newest, most popular varieties, and when they have increased sufficiently they will find their way into our catalog. Everything has been transplanted to our home gardens at 1421 North 16th Avenue, where we maintain our home and office, and we should have some excellent stock to offer this coming shipping season.

As always, iris fanciers, shutterbugs and everyone will be most welcome at our gardens, especially at blooming time, about the first of June, I have no hesitancy in saying that some remarkably fine new things are being propagated and you will surely want to see them. Most are Eupogocyclus hybrids, (Oncobreds), things from Lady Mohr, Capitola, Joppa Parrot and their derivatives. Too, we have planted several rhizomes each of the wondrous pure Onco species, Gatesii and Sari, natives of the mountains of Turkey, and Susiana, native to the Holy Land. Since these bloom with the early tall bearded, as do our eupogocyclus hybrids, early visitors to our gardens should be well rewarded if we have success with them.

To reach our gardens, turn right at the stoplight on Fruitvale Boulevard and 16th Avenue, if coming from Yakima, or left, if coming over Chinook Pass, and travel approximately one half mile—across the River Road, then to the third house on the right, 1421 North 16th Avenue, well marked by our sign.

We hope to be seein' you!

Sincerely

JACK LINSE

1956 INTRODUCTIONS

Here-in we proudly present the first major release of our lovely new series of eupogocyclus hybrids (Oncobreds). Huge rounded blossoms of beautiful form on tall, branched stalks, they are seemingly, as one enthusiast put it, an entirely new race of irises. They mark the culmination of 12 years of intensive breeding and have been admired by all who have seen them. Proven as hardy and easily grown as the tall bearded, they now range in color from pure white, cream and yellow, through purple and various combinations of color. The deep rose-red, OZIE WATERS (Long O) was named in honor of my favorite singer of Western songs and ballads, Captain Ozie Waters of the Colorado Rangers. Star of Columbia Pictures, TV and radio, and during the season of '54-'55, MC and featured artist on KOA Denver's Saturday night show "Western Stampede." Darlene and Melody are his daughters who also appeared on the show. Thought you'd like to know! All of these introductions have the full rounded Onco look, Red Butterfly, however, resembles its parent Butterfly Wings somewhat in form, and arrangement of colors.

DARLENE WATERS (Linse 1956) 40". Early. This is a beautifully finished flower of light blue-violet, with darker violet signal of lines raying out into the falls, which are near horizontal. The flowers are very large with spread of 7 inches or more, and the heavily substandard petals—both standards and falls—are 3 inches across. The beard is lemon, blue tipped. A tall lovely with fine stalk, two good branches and a terminal, and of rapid growth. A two-year clump had 7 fine bloomstalks! A personal favorite! Seedling NSCAP-27, from New Snow X Capitola. Each $20.00

OZIE WATERS (Linse 1956) 36". Early. A handsome iris named for a fine artist! Here is something entirely different in this line of hybrids, for this big fellow is a deep rose-red self with brownish suffusion at the haft, old gold beard and prominent black signal patch. A genuine break in color! Flowers are huge, about 8 inches across, flatly flaring with excellent substance. Stalks are good and strong, branching moderate. Plenty of pollen. Seedling Spellcap-1, from Spellbound X Capitola, it is, in effect, a darker, Oncoed Spellbound with dark signal and lovely fragrance. Net $25.00

PHLOX PINK (Linse 1956) 40". Early. A great favorite with the ladies! Another new color, for according to the color chart it is Phlox Pink with falls shading to orchid, and adorned by a slight violet signal patch and golden yellow beard. This gives a very pink effect when placed with the blues and is a wonderful companion for its sisters, Darlene and Melody Waters. Falls 3½ inches across and the flowers have a spread of 7½ inches. Good stalks with two branches and terminal. Seedling NSCAP-5, from New Snow X Capitola. Each $20.00

RED BUTTERFLY (Linse 1956) 40". Midseason. An arrangers iris deluxe! Of good size, but not huge, it has rose-red standards and falls of white, lined Dahlia purple. The beard is golden brown with a white area about it, the lines radiate out from this to near the edge of falls, which are margined dark lilac-purple, near black. The haft edges are barium yellow. This, then, is a larger Butterfly Wings done in red, white and gold, with fine clear colors. It has a beautiful four way branched stalk, is a real husky grower and fertile both ways. The parentage is Butterfly Wings X Spellbound. Each $20.00

PINEAPPLE SHERBET (Linse 1956) 44". Midseason. Here is something entirely different and one I have been using much in breeding, with some fascinating results. The breeding of this iris is most interesting, for it is from (The Capitol X Soquel) X Joppa Parrot. This gives it much Onco blood on both sides of the pedigree. It has loads of pollen, which appears fully as potent as that of Joppa Parrot, and in addition sets seeds readily, which are big and fat and germinate readily. A much easier grower than Joppa Parrot, with tall stalks and two fine, widely spaced branches. The foliage being quite short, gives it the appearance of being a bit leggy and for that reason I am introducing it at a lower price than any of the others. The flowers are large and flaring, with wonderful substance. The color is hard to describe—I like to think of it as a Pineapple colored self, but Jeannie, who knows about such things says it has a slightly bitone effect, with standards of oyster white with lavender influence near the edges, and falls of Pineapple (Chartreuse yellow) with the outer parts, midrib and base of beard showing a bit of lavender. Beard is yellow, and the falls sometimes show a few lavender flecks. A handsome hybrid—a breeder of real value.

NAME YOUR OWN EXTRAS

Each year, rather than waste valuable space in our catalog by listing collections at reduced prices for quantity purchases, we have made a practice of giving our customers, entirely free of cost, extras from our fine list, amounting to 50% of the order, providing that order amounts to $10.00 or more. As an example, orders of $10.00 would receive $5.00 worth of extras and so on. Now, we want these gifts to be something which you do not already have, so, after making out your order, list a group of irises separately that you would like as extras, totaling about 75% of your order, and we will select your extras from that list to the total of 50%. In this way you will receive irises of your choice, and we will have a bit of leeway in case some on your list are in short supply or sold out. Irises now known to be in short supply are marked with a star (*) and are limited one to the customer and may not be chosen as extras. We will refund on anything in your order which we cannot supply, unless you indicate that something on your list of extras would be acceptable as an alternate. Kindly follow instructions to avoid misunderstandings.

GENERAL LIST

The name of the originator and the year of introduction will appear in parenthesis after the name of the variety, followed by average height in inches and awards won, if known.

VARIETIES PRECEDED BY A STAR (*) are in short supply, are limited one to the customer and may not be chosen as extras.

JOIN THE AMERICAN IRIS SOCIETY

The four fine bulletins printed each year are of genuine interest to anyone growing irises. Dues are $4.00 annually, three years for $10.50. Send remittances to the American Iris Society 3902 Hillsboro Road, Nashville, Tenn.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Irises will grow almost anywhere, but respond to good care and soil just as any other plant. When you plant, try to give them an uncrowded position with good sunlight. A slightly elevated position where no water stands is best. To avoid having to move and divide too often they are best planted about two feet apart. Closer planting will achieve better immediate effect but they will soon become crowded and have to be moved. If you have well cured compost, by all means use it, there is nothing finer. Mix it with the soil when planting, or use as a mulch. Steamed bone meal is also very good. Stay away from fertilizers heavy in nitrogen and keep all fertilizers excepting those mentioned away from the rhizomes. Make a good hole, spread the roots well and cover the rhizomes with perhaps an inch of soil. Firm well, water and use good garden practice from then on. It is advisable to protect newly planted irises over winter in cold climates. Mulch with anything that will not pack down, such as salt hay, excelsior, fir boughs, etc. One of the easiest ways is to draw up a couple of inches of extra soil around them with the advent of cold weather, like hilling up corn or potatoes. This extra soil can be scratched away when growth starts in the spring. I have found this method very satisfactory on semi-tender things.

ADDENDUM

As I write this, on the 22nd of March, we have finally emerged from one of the most severe and prolonged winters of record. Starting without warning on November 13th, three nights of zero, 3° below and zero, caught plants, shrubs and trees totally unprepared and many were severely damaged or killed. Roses were still in bloom (they are very dead, now), and many plants and shrubs were in full foliage. The leaves on the apple trees across the way still remain, as though glued on—very dry—and very dead! A protecting blanket of snow for the irises, arrived on November 17th, remaining until March 9th, and likely no further damage was suffered, even though it was 20° below zero on February 6th.

Issuance of our catalog was purposely delayed until damage could be assessed by personal inspection of each plant. As a result, 21 varieties which we had expected to list have been dropped. Those remaining should certainly prove hardy in most places where irises may be successfully grown.

"Spring will be a little late this year", and peak bloom may not come before the first of June. Visitors to the convention in California in late April who have planned to visit the Northwest would do well to write for information, to avoid disappointment. The 1956 Linse introductions may be seen in the garden of Mrs. Leo Reynolds, Memphis, Tenn.; and some may be seen at Lyn Hoffmans in Davis Calif.; Mrs. Pattisons in Corona del Mar, Calif. and Mrs. Archie Owens in San Gabriel, California.
